The paper addresses crucial issues relating to the notion of periphrasis, with particular reference to the Romance languages. The degree of periphrasticity of multi-word constructions is assessed from a synchronic and diachronic perspective, and the criteria for defining such constructions as periphrastic are examined in relation to grammaticalisation and reanalysis, and to sociolinguistic variation.

La conferenza verrà trasmessa anche in live streaming sulla piattaforma Microsoft Teams; il link all'aula virtuale è il seguente:
